

Mama Anna's translations of daily life in kabondo.

Every morning from Monday to Friday, when I woke up I go to the farm, I work in the farm till 10.00am or 11.00am. from the farm I begin my house core. I begin with preparing breakfast for the family and probably Uji, after taking Uji; I begin washing the utensils, go to draw water from the nearby well since my well is not completed, I bring enough water for the days use and then do some little laundry.

At around 12.00Noon I begin to prepare for lunch and sometimes when the breakfast was heavy there is no need for the making lunch. After lunch hour, I look for what to prepare during supper. I go to farm to look for local vegetables that grow in the fields mix them and make them ready for supper.

After all is done I took a bath and then relax to wait for the supper preparation and after supper I sleep at 9.00pm and the routine repeats itself everyday.
